16 their agency, representation, partnership and/or employment with the authority, 17 permission and consent of each of the other Defendants.

18
19 JURISDCITION and VENUE

20 10. Venue in this matter is properly based on diversity jurisdiction 21 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1332. Plaintiffs EVANSTON and SHAND are 22 corporations whose principal places of business are in Illinois. Defendants 23 EDWARDS and BYRON are citizens of California and Defendants BEM and B & 24 E are professional corporations whose principal places of business are in 25 California. The amount in controversy, without interest and costs, exceeds the sum 26 or value specified by 28 U.S.C. §1332.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

11. On or about April 1, 2005, EVANSTON issued a Claims Made Architects and Engineers Professional Liability policy No. AE-809633 to Summit Consulting & Architecture, Inc. ("Summit") which provided professional liability coverage to Summit, pursuant to all of its terms and provisions, including a April 1, 2001 retroactive date, and California law. ("Policy") The Policy provided coverage to Summit, as the named insured, and to Michael Kiss ("Kiss") an owner, officer, director, employee, and shareholder of Summit, solely while Kiss acted in the course and scope of his activities for Summit. Summit and Kiss are collectively referred to as "Insureds" unless otherwise specifically indicated.

12. On or about May 18, 2004, Joanne Rogers ("Rogers") filed a Complaint in the Superior Court of the State of California, for the County of San Diego entitled Joanne Rogers v. Watermark Owners Association et al., bearing Case No. GIC830102. ("Rogers Action") On or about December 20, 2005, Rogers filed a First Amended Complaint ("FAC") adding Summit as a named defendant. On or about April 12, 2006, Rogers filed a Second Amended Complaint ("SAC") in which Summit remained a Defendant. The Rogers Action sought to recover damages as a result of a construction project at the Watermark Condominiums in which it was alleged that the Insureds worked as the project manager between December 2001 and September 2005.

13. On or about January 16, 2006, Kiss tendered the defense of the FAC in the Rogers Action to EVANSTON, on behalf of the Insureds, requesting that EVANSTON provide all the benefits and coverage to which the Insureds were entitled pursuant to the terms of the Policy. ("Tender") Upon receipt of the Tender, EVANSTON and SHAND determined that there were questions as to whether the Policy provided coverage for the Rogers Action and retained EDWARDS, who was then a partner, employee, agent and associate of BEM and/or B & E, to provide coverage advice and counsel, specifically requesting an

1 opinion and recommendations as to whether there was any potential for coverage 2 to be provided to the Insureds for the FAC, pursuant to the terms and provisions of 3 the Policy.

4 14. Unbeknownst to PLAINTIFFS at the time they retained EDWARDS 5 to render an opinion as to whether there was coverage under the Policy for the 6 Insureds in relation to the Rogers Action, EDWARDS' partner, and associate 7 BYRON and BEM and/or B & E, were already attorneys of record in the Rogers 8 Action, and were already representing The Szaras Companies, Inc. ("Szaras") in 9 the Rogers Action. Because it was a co-defendant in the Rogers Action, Szaras' 10 interests actually conflicted with the interests of the Insureds, and therefore with 11 PLAINTIFFS' interests in determining whether there was coverage owed to the 12 Insureds for the Rogers Action under the terms of the Policy.

13 15. By virtue of the fact that BYRON and EDWARDS were partners, 14 associates, agents and employees of each other, and of BEM and B & E, they were 15 each and every one of them retained by PLAINTIFFS to provide legal counsel and 16 advice to PLAINTIFFS. B & E, BEM, BYRON, and EDWARDS are collectively 17 referred to as "Defendants" unless otherwise specifically indicated.

18 16. PLAINTIFFS are informed and believe, and on that basis allege that 19 Defendants understood and accepted that they were jointly and collectively 20 retained to represent PLAINTIFFS, and that at all relevant times they each 21 performed their duties on behalf of PLAINTIFFS in the course and scope of their 22 retention as PLAINTIFFS' counsel.

23 17. Defendants accepted and continued their representation of 24 PLAINTIFFS, agreeing to provide coverage advice to PLAINTIFFS relative to 25 EVANSTON'S obligation to respond to the Rogers Action on behalf of the 26 Insureds without providing any disclosure, oral or written to PLAINTIFFS that 27 Defendants maintained a concurrent legal, professional and financial relationship 28 with another party in the Rogers Action whose interests actually or potentially

1 conflicted with PLAINTIFFS' interests.

2

3 18. Defendants' acceptance and continued representation of PLAINTIFFS 4 relative to EVANSTON'S obligation to respond to the Rogers Action on behalf of 5 the Insureds without providing any disclosure to PLAINTIFFS that Defendants 6 maintained a concurrent legal, professional and financial relationship with another 7 party in the Rogers Action whose interests actually or potentially conflicted with 8 PLAINTIFFS' interest, was in violation of California Rules of Professional 9 Conduct ("CRPC") Rule 3-310 and the ethical, professional and fiduciary 10 responsibilities owed to PLAINTIFFS.

11 19. Defendants, and each of them, in violation of CRPC Rule 3-310 and 12 their ethical, professional and fiduciary responsibilities owed to PLAINTIFFS, 13 accepted and continued their representation of PLAINTIFFS without providing 14 written disclosure that Defendants had a legal, financial, and/or professional 15 relationship with Szaras whose interests actually and/or potentially conflicted with 16 PLAINTIFFS' interest, and the interests of the Insureds, thereby affecting 17 PLAINTIFFS' interests.

18 20. On or about February 9, 2006 EDWARDS provided PLAINTIFFS 19 with a written coverage opinion in which he concluded there was no potential 20 coverage for the Insureds under the terms of the Policy and California law for the 21 Rogers Action, and therefore EVANSTON owed no duty to defend the Insureds 22 under the terms of the Policy. The coverage opinion concluded that there was no 23 potential for coverage and no duty to defend the Insureds pursuant to a "mold 24 exclusion" contained in the Policy, because all of the damages claimed in the 25 Rogers Action arose out of, or involved "mold" or a "mold event" as those terms 26 are defined in the Policy.

27 21. PLAINTIFFS relied on EDWARDS' unconflicted advice, proficiency 28 and competence in rendering the Coverage Opinion and on that basis authorized

1 EDWARDS to proceed as he had recommended. On or about February 24, 2006, 2 by and on behalf of PLAINTIFFS, EDWARDS disclaimed any obligation by 3 EVANSTON to provide coverage, a defense or indemnity for the Insureds in 4 response to the Rogers Action. ("Disclaimer")

5 22. On or about November 6, 2006, Kiss submitted a second request to 6 EDWARDS requesting that PLAINTIFFS reimburse the Insureds for the costs the 7 Insureds had incurred to defend themselves in the Rogers Action, and that 8 PLAINTIFFS pay a settlement on Summit's behalf. ("Re-Tender") In his Re-9 Tender, Kiss claimed that there was coverage for the Rogers Action because he 10 and Summit performed tasks and duties as the project manager/construction 11 manager on the construction project at issue in the Rogers Action between 2001 12 and 2003 that did not involve mold, noting that the Disclaimer only referenced the 13 Policy's mold exclusion. Kiss claimed that he was involved in tasks including the 14 review of the structural and "fire safing" issues, removal and replacement of 15 windows, removal and replacement of EIFS, removal and replacement of water 16 damaged GYP board and approval of reimbursements made by the owners.

17 23. Kiss indicated in the Re-Tender that because of the Disclaimer he had 18 incurred costs in defending Summit and that he was concerned about the likelihood 19 that Summit would face a large judgment and a claim for indemnity arising out of 20 the Rogers Action. Kiss also provided EDWARDS with a copy of a statutory 21 demand to settle the claims brought by the PLAINTIFFS in the Rogers Action 22 against Summit for $50,000, requesting that it be paid by PLAINTIFFS on 23 Summit's behalf.

24 24. In his Re-Tender, Kiss also indicated that he was experiencing great 25 stress and anxiety, and was anticipating the likelihood of financial ruin because of 26 EVANSTON'S refusal to defend Summit in the Rogers Action. Finally, Kiss 27 indicated that Scott Morgan, Rogers' expert in the Rogers Action had testified in 28 deposition that Summit had performed negligently on matters that had nothing to 1 do with mold, and Kiss offered to provide EDWARDS with a copy of Mr.

2 Morgan's deposition and related exhibits in order to substantiate his claim that 3 there was a potential for coverage for the Insureds relative to the Rogers Action.

4 25. When analyzing the Re-Tender, EDWARDS did not review the 5 entirety of the deposition of Scott Morgan, Rogers' expert in the Rogers Action 6 whom Kiss claimed had testified in deposition that Summit performed negligently 7 on matters that had nothing to do with mold, and instead EDWARDS expected 8 Kiss to identify the particular portions of the deposition which created a potential 9 for coverage under the terms and provisions of the Policy.

10 26. When analyzing the Re-Tender, EDWARDS did not ever review or 11 analyze the SAC, despite the fact that it had been filed 7 months earlier.

12 27. When analyzing the Re-Tender EDWARDS ignored the SAC's 13 negligence cause of action, which included the allegation that Summit had 14 negligently fallen below the standard of care by failing to ensure that the work 15 performed by other contractors on the job was complete and did not fall below the 16 standard of care.

17 28. The Defendants were each and every one of them privy to all of the 18 information that was available to each and every one of them in the Rogers Action, 19 including the entirety of the written discovery and deposition transcripts that were 20 generated in the Rogers Action. Nevertheless, after failing to disclose the actual 21 and/or potential conflict that was created by Defendants' concurrent representation 22 of Szaras and Plaintiffs relative to the Rogers Action, EDWARDS failed to 23 consider or analyze such information, or communicate such information which 24 demonstrated that there was in fact a potential for coverage and therefore a duty to 25 defend Summit in the Rogers Action, to PLAINTIFFS.

26 29. On or about November 16, 2006, Summit settled the Rogers Action 27 upon terms which included a stipulated judgment for Rogers in the sum of 28 $730,000, a covenant not to execute against the Insureds and an assignment of

1 Summit's rights against EVANSTON based upon the Tender and Re-Tender and 2 EVANSTON'S refusal to provide coverage, defense, or indemnity to the Insureds
3 in relation to the Rogers Action. The Court subsequently found that the settlement 4 of the Rogers Action constituted a good faith settlement pursuant to Code of Civil 5 Procedure §877.6.

6 30. On November 21, 2006 EDWARDS provided PLAINTIFFS with a 7 second coverage opinion which again concluded that there was no potential for 8 coverage and no duty to defend the Insureds, based on his opinion that all of the 9 damages claimed in the Rogers Action arose out of or involved "mold" or a "mold 10 event" as those terms are defined in the Policy, notwithstanding the allegations that 11 Summit had performed negligently on matters that had nothing to do with mold.

12 31. PLAINTIFFS relied on EDWARDS' unconflicted advice, proficiency
13 and competence in rendering the second coverage opinion and on that basis 14 authorized Defendants to proceed as they recommended. At no time prior to 15 issuing the second coverage opinion did EDWARDS ever disclose to 16 PLAINTIFFS that his partner, agent, associate and employee, BYRON was 17 concurrently representing Szaras relative to the Rogers Action. At no time did the 18 Defendants disclose to PLAINTIFFS that they had a conflict of interest as a 19 consequence of their concurrent representation of PLAINTIFFS and Szaras.

20 32. On or about November 22, 2006, by and on behalf of PLAINTIFFS, 21 EDWARDS again disclaimed any obligation by EVANSTON to provide coverage, 22 a defense or indemnity for the Insureds in and against the Rogers Action. ("Second 23 Disclaimer")

24 33. It was not until after the settlement of the Rogers Action and the 25 issuance of the second coverage opinion that PLAINTIFFS became aware of the 26 fact that while Defendants were representing PLAINTIFFS, and providing 27 coverage advice to PLAINTIFFS relative to the Rogers Action, they were also 28 representing Szaras, a defendant in the Rogers Action. Defendants only admitted

1 their simultaneous representation of PLAINTIFFS and Szaras after their efforts to 2 keep this material information from PLAINTIFFS had failed, and even then, 3 Defendants claimed that there was no conflict of interest posed by their concurrent 4 representation of Szaras and PLAINTIFFS.

5 34. On or about April 13, 2007, the Insureds filed a Complaint in the 6 Superior Court of the State of California, for the County of San Diego entitled 7 Summit Consulting & Architecture, Inc.; Michael Kiss v. Evanston Insurance Co.;
8 Shand Morahan & Company, Inc.; Markel Corporation et al., Case No. 37-2007-
9 00064986-CU-BC-CTL. ("Summit Action") In the Summit Action, the Insureds 10 alleged causes of action for breach of contract, breach of the covenant of good faith 11 and fair dealing, violation of Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et. seq., intentional 12 infliction of emotional distress, negligent infliction of emotional distress and 13 declaratory relief against PLAINTIFFS based upon its processing and handling of 14 Summit's claim for benefits under the Policy as a result of the Rogers Action.

15 35. In the Summit Action, the Insureds alleged that PLAINTIFFS failed 16 to properly process and handle their Tender and Re-Tender of the Rogers Action, 17 failed to properly conduct a prompt, full and complete investigation of the facts 18 and circumstances giving rise to the claims asserted in the Rogers Action, 19 improperly failed to defend and indemnify the Insureds in the Rogers Action, and 20 improperly concluded that there was no potential for coverage for the Insureds 21 under the terms of the Policy for the Rogers Action.

22 36. PLAINTIFFS incurred significant costs and attorneys fees defending the 23 Summit Action as a consequence of the acts and conduct of the Defendants as set 24 forth herein. In or about January 2008, PLAINTIFFS settled the Summit Action for 25 a sum which significantly exceeded the applicable Policy limit.

26
27 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION FOR PROFESSIONAL NEGLIGENCE
28 (By PLAINTIFFS Against all Defendants)

1           37. PLAINTIFFS refer to and re-allege Paragraphs 1 through 36, 2 inclusive above, and incorporate each and every such paragraph by reference as 3 though fully set forth herein.

4           38. PLAINTIFFS and Defendants formed an attorney-client relationship
5 in regard to the matters described herein above, when PLAINTIFFS retained 6 EDWARDS to provide legal advice and services concerning the Rogers Action, 7 and that in conjunction with this attorney-client relationship, EDWARDS and the 8 Defendants owed PLAINTIFFS a legal duty of the highest order to act in 9 PLAINTIFFS' best interests, and to observe all the applicable laws of the State of 10 California and California Rules of Professional Conduct. By virtue of their 11 attorney-client relationship, Defendants owed PLAINTIFFS a duty to use such 12 skill, prudence, and diligence as members of his or her profession commonly 13 possess and exercise in performing all duties owed to their clients, including 14 PLAINTIFFS.

15           39. By their acts and omissions as described herein, Defendants breached 16 their legal duties owed to PLAINTIFFS pursuant to the attorney-client relationship, 17 including their fiduciary duties of loyalty, integrity and honesty of the highest 18 character owed to PLAINTIFFS, and breached their duty to use and provide such 19 skill, care, prudence, and diligence as members of the legal profession commonly 20 possess and exercise in performing all duties owed to clients, including without 21 limitation, by:

22           (a) Violating CRPC Rule 3-310's written disclosure requirements
23 by failing to disclose to PLAINTIFFS that at the time PLAINTIFFS first retained 24 EDWARDS to render coverage advice in relation to the Insureds and the Rogers 25 Action, that his partner, associate, agent and employee, BYRON was already 26 concurrently representing Szaras in the Rogers Action;

27           (b) Violating an attorney's duty to zealously protect its client's 28 interest within the bounds of the law;

1 (c) Failing at any time until after the Rogers Action was settled to 2 admit to PLAINTIFFS that during the entire time the Defendants acted as coverage
3 counsel, advising PLAINTIFFS as to EVANSTON'S obligations to the Insureds 4 relative to the Rogers Action, Defendants were concurrently representing Szaras in 5 the Rogers Action;

6 (d) Failing to properly evaluate and analyze EVANSTON'S duty to 7 provide coverage, defense, and indemnity to the Insureds under the terms of the 8 Policy for the Rogers Action, by failing to properly and fully investigate all of the 9 facts, circumstances and documents relevant to a full and complete analysis of 10 coverage;

11 (e) Failing to properly evaluate and analyze EVANSTON'S duty to 12 provide coverage, defense, and indemnity to the Insureds under the terms of the 13 Policy for the Rogers Action, by incorrectly analyzing EVANSTON'S duty to 14 provide coverage, a defense and indemnity, to the Insureds under the terms of the 15 Policy for the Rogers Action;

16 (f) Failing to recognize and advise PLAINTIFFS that there was a 17 potential for coverage that obligated EVANSTON to provide the Insureds with a 18 defense in the Rogers Action because all of the claims asserted in the Rogers 19 Action were not excluded by the Policy's mold exclusion.

20 (g) Failing to avoid the appearance of impropriety in their 21 concurrent representation of PLAINTIFFS and Szaras in relation to the Rogers 22 Action.

23 40. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breach of their legal 24 duties owed to PLAINTIFFS, the Summit Action was filed against PLAINTIFFS, 25 which has caused PLAINTIFFS to suffer monetary damages, including without 26 limitation attorneys' fees and costs to defend the Summit Action and an amount 27 significantly in excess of the Policy limits to settle the Summit Action.
28

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION FOR BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTY*(By PLAINTIFFS against all Defendants)

41. PLAINTIFFS refer to and re-allege Paragraphs 1 through 40, inclusive above, and incorporate each and every such paragraph by reference as though fully set forth herein.

42. Defendants represented PLAINTIFFS in relation to the matters described herein above, and therefore, an attorney-client relationship existed between PLAINTIFFS and Defendants giving rise to a fiduciary relationship of the very highest character.

43. BYRON and EDWARDS were at all times relevant partners, associates, agents and employees of BEM, B & E and each other, and they are therefore each and every one of them vicariously obligated to provide the same attorney-client and fiduciary duties to PLAINTIFFS.

44. Defendants owed PLAINTIFFS a fiduciary duty of the highest order necessitating that Defendants always act in the best interests of PLAINTIFFS. The fiduciary duties owed by Defendants to PLAINTIFFS include, but are not limited to the duty to maintain the highest level of loyalty, integrity and honesty in all of their dealings with PLAINTIFFS; the duty to observe and protect any and all of PLAINTIFFS' legal rights and interests, as established by the laws of the State of California and the California Rules of Professional Conduct; the duty to disclose to PLAINTIFFS any and all conflicts of interest as a result of the representation of clients whose interests actually or potentially conflict; the duty to disclose all material information relevant to a client's representation; and, the duty not to keep secret any material information relevant to a client's representation.

45. By their acts and omissions as described herein, Defendants breached their fiduciary duty of loyalty, integrity and honesty of the highest character owed to PLAINTIFFS by acts including but not limited to:

(a) Violating CRPC Rule 3-310's written disclosure requirements

1 by failing to disclose to PLAINTIFFS that at the time PLAINTIFFS retained 2 Defendants to render coverage advice to PLAINTIFFS relative to the Insureds and 3 the Rogers Action while Defendants were concurrently representing Szaras, 4 another co-defendant in the Rogers Action, whose interests actually or potentially 5 conflicted with the Insureds' and PLAINTIFFS' interests;

6 (b) Expressly misleading PLAINTIFFS as to their concurrent 7 representation of PLAINTIFFS and Szaras relative to the Rogers Action.

8 46. Defendants actions as alleged herein were undertaken while knowing 9 that they were obligated to disclose their concurrent representation of 10 PLAINTIFFS and Szaras so as to allow each of them the opportunity to determine 11 whether to waive the actual and/or potential conflict that was created by virtue of 12 Defendants' concurrent representation of PLAINTIFFS and Szaras. With full 13 knowledge and awareness of their duty to disclose their actual and/or potential 14 conflict, Defendants knowingly, intentionally and purposefully withheld such 15 information from PLAINTIFFS, and mislead PLAINTIFFS as to the fact that they 16 were concurrently representing PLAINTIFFS and Szaras so as to keep this material 17 information from PLAINTIFFS for their benefit and to the detriment of 18 PLAINTIFFS.

19 47. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breach of fiduciary 20 duty, as alleged herein above, PLAINTIFFS have suffered monetary damages in an 21 amount according to proof at trial but which amount exceeds this Court's 22 minimum jurisdiction.

23 48. Defendants actions as alleged herein were undertaken with malice, 24 oppression, and fraud, based on a Defendants conscious disregard for 25 PLAINTIFFS' rights, entitling PLAINTIFFS to the recovery of punitive damages.
26

27 WHEREFORE, PLAINTIFFS pray for judgment as follows:

28 1. For compensatory damages according to proof at the time of trial, but

1 which amount exceeds this Court's minimum jurisdiction, and which include but 2 are nor limited to the cost of defending the Summit Action and the cost of settling 3 the Summit Action;

- 4 2. For punitive and exemplary damages;
- 5 3. For PLAINTIFFS' attorneys' fees and costs of suit incurred herein;
- 6 4. For all interest at the maximum allowable rate permitted by law; and
- 7 5. For such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
